

Restorative Justice Edgemont Elementary School

RJ circle this week!

Enacted by Congress in 1994, MLK Day of Service calls on individuals to strengthen communities, bridge divides, remove barriers, and bring people of different minds together to move us all closer to Dr. King's version of a beloved and peaceful community. In RJ circles each class is planning a service project for our Day of Service on January 19th.

Mindfulness- Stand up and rock back and forth, side to side, breath, rock in circles, find your center.

Team Building Game: Ideas for the service projects?

Check in questions of the week:

How are you and why? What do you think Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. meant when he said "Everyone can be great because everyone can serve?" What does it mean to service our community? Our Edgemont community?

Activity/Discussion: Students see example ideas for service projects, share ideas and vote to decide what project their class will take part of on January 19th.

Restorative Justice (RJ) is an indigenous philosophy that emphasizes building relationships. If there is a need to repair harm caused by conflict and wrongdoing, restorative justice provides an opportunity for everyone impacted by an incident to come together in a safe space to address their feelings and needs, and reach a resolution that heals and restores relationships.
